

LATIN REJOINDERS

Rejoinders let students express themselves and participate in class spontaneously.
They give students a release instead of resorting to blurting out in English.
See more about Rejoinders here.

Agreement

tēcum stō	I agree with you. cōnsentiō	I agree.
neque ego!	Me neither!
ego quoque!	Me too!

bene	Okay
sine dubiō!	Without a doubt! sānē!	Obviously, Clearly
scilicet!	It's obvious!

Sympathy

ēheu!	Oh no! Alas! miserum!	Poor thing!
prō dolor!	What a shame! utinam!	I wish! If only!

Complaining

fūfae!	Yuck! Gross! Eww!
aequum non est!	That's not fair!

Praise

bonus est!	That's good!
optimē!	Excellent!
macte!	Well done!
iustum est!	That's right!

Other

magnī mōmentī	This is important
maximī mōmentī	This is most important cavē!	Careful
perge!	Continue!
nesciō	I don't know.
cōnfūsus sum	I'm confused.
non est tanti	It's not important.

Amazement

papae!	Wow; How strange!
bombax!	Wow!
mīrābile!	Amazing!

tantum per iocum	Just kidding!
Quidnī?	Why not?

Disbelief

sēriō?!	Seriously?!
nefās!	Unspeakable! rīdiculum est!	That's ridiculous! impossibile est!	That's impossible!

tēcum dissentiō	I disagree with you.
------------------------	-----------------------------

ignōsce mihi	Forgive me. / I'm sorry. ignōsce nobis	Forgive us. / We're sorry.

Doubt

nōn crēdō!	I don't believe it!
nisi fallor...	Unless I'm mistaken... fortasse...	Maybe
fieri potest	It's possible.

Dominus vobiscum	God be with you (all)
Dominus tecum	God be with you (one)